COMMISSION DE LA CEDEAO
COMISSÃO DA CEDEAO

BATCH 2025

Key address by the President of ECOWAS Commission

Dr. Omar Alieu TOURAY

In recent years ECOWAS adopted its Vision 2050, which focuses on: a community of people fully integrated into a peaceful and prosperous region, supported by strong institutions and respect for fundamental rights and freedoms, striving for inclusive and sustainable development.

To realize the vision, five pillars have been developed notably: (1) a secure, stable and peaceful region; (2) a region where good governance and the rule of law prevail, with respect for fundamental rights and freedoms; (3) a fully integrated and prosperous region; (4) a region mobilized for transformation, inclusive and sustainable development; and (5) a community of people that is fully inclusive of women, children and young people. Since July 2022, the new ECOWAS management team has embraced these priorities and developed four strategic objectives for the period 2022-2026, known as the 4/4 strategic objectives. These objectives focus on strengthening regional peace and security; deepening regional integration and good governance; and supporting inclusive and sustainable development. These goals provide a clear roadmap for ECOWAS to develop activities that have an impact on the youth with a view to contributing to regional integration, as well as inclusive and sustainable development.

The Professional Immersion Program for Young Graduates in ECOWAS Institutions and Agencies is aligned with the ECOWAS vision 2050 which addresses the low employability of young people in the region. The program provides a framework for the professional integration of West African youth, who make up over 65% of the community's population. It serves as a flagship initiative to address, at least in part, the high demand among young people for experience and employability.

Message from the Commissioner of Human Development and Social Affairs

Prof. Fatou Sow SARR

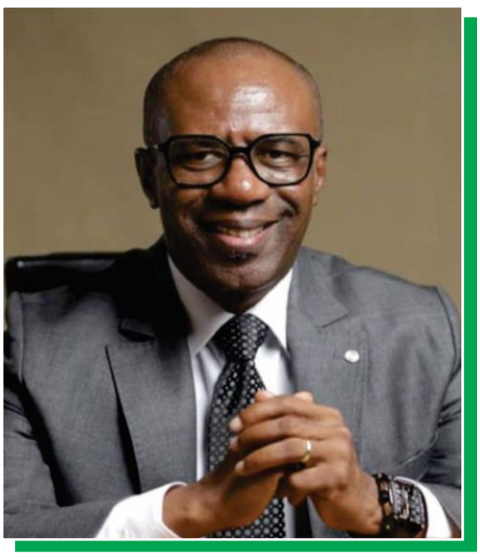

The Professional Immersion Program for Young Graduates in ECOWAS Institutions and Agencies was established in 2017. It is one of the four components of the ECOWAS Nnamdi Azikiwe Academic Mobility Scheme (ENAAMS) of the Directorate of Education, Science and Culture, whose main objective is to enable young people to acquire practical skills and professional experience that will enrich their knowledge and experience for employment opportunities. Since its inception, the program so far has trained 532 young graduates from different backgrounds, hosted in almost all ECOWAS institutions: ECOWAS Commission departments, Court of Justice, GIABA, ECOWAS Permanent Representations, ECOWAS Agencies, etc. The program has an objective, fair and transparent recruitment process, with merit being the primary consideration, through selection by an interdepartmental committee. Knowing the demand in the region is high, we are committed to providing a skilled workforce.

We shall continue to improve upon these opportunities for young graduates, to enable young people to acquire the skills and experience relevant to their future employability, but also to learn more about ECOWAS' vision and objectives, and how programs/activities are implemented.

I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge my predecessors who facilitated the establishment of this program and supported its sustainability. Notably, the commissioner who started the program Prof. Hamidou Boly, followed by successive commissioners Prof. Leopoldo AMADO and Dr. Mamadu JAO. I would also like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the late Prof. Leopoldo AMADO of blessed memory, who ensured and strengthened the sustainability of the program.

I am confident that the program has empowered you with the requisite experience and skills you need for the job market. I wish you every success in your future endeavors.

Technical Coordinators of the Program

THE COMMISSION

The Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) Commission was transformed from an ECOWAS Secretariat in 2007 to align with the vision, mission, and objectives of ECOWAS as a regional organization. The headquarters is in Abuja, Nigeria, the Commission is led by the President, supported by other statutory appointees, who provides leadership to realize the vision of the founding fathers, which is to create “a borderless region where the population has access to its abundant resources and can exploit them through creating opportunities within a sustainable environment.”

The President of the Commission is the Chief Executive Officer of the Commission and all its Institutions. The Commission executes the decisions taken by the Authority and the application of the Regulations of the Council. The Commission is also responsible for the promotion of Community development programs and projects, as well as multinational initiatives of the region, convening as and when necessary, meetings of sectoral ministers. These ministers examine sectoral issues that promote the achievement of the objectives of the community. They are also tasked with the preparation of draft budgets and programs of activity of the community, and the supervision of their execution upon their approval by the Council, submission of reports on community activities to all meetings of the Authority and Council, among others.

The ECOWAS commission is also responsible for the implementation of strategic programs that will deepen cohesion and progressively eliminate identified barriers to full integration. In this way, the estimated 300 million citizens of the community can ultimately take ownership of the realization of the new vision of moving from an ECOWAS of States to an “ECOWAS of the People: Peace and Prosperity to All” by 2050. In addition, the Commission is a multilateral and multilingual institutions of statutory, professional and general staff, from diverse cultural, ethnic, national, occupational, gender, intellectual and professional backgrounds, tasked to realize the mission, vision and objectives set under the ECOWAS Protocols, to help achieve the mandate under the ECOWAS treaty of 1975, revised in 1993.

West African Health Organization (WAHO)

A specialized agency of the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) responsible for health issues, the West African Health Organization was established by Protocol A/P2/7/87 of 9 July 1987, signed in Abuja by the Heads of State and Government. The WAHO headquarters are in Bobo-Dioulasso, Burkina Faso.

Article III of the founding protocol stipulates that 'the objective of the West African Health Organization is to provide the highest level of health care services to the populations of the sub-region on the basis of harmonization of Member States' policies, pooling of resources and cooperation between Member States and third countries with a view to finding collective and strategic solutions to the health problems of the sub-region'. Thus, through its founding protocol, WAHO has been entrusted by the Heads of State and Government with the political mandate to ensure regional coordination in the field of health within the ECOWAS region.

VISION

In line with the Community's overall vision of moving from an ECOWAS of states to an ECOWAS of peoples by 2020, WAHO's vision is to be recognized by member states and the international community as the main instrument of regional integration in health, enabling effective interventions and programs with a significant impact.

The Intergovernmental Action Group against Money Laundering in West Africa was established in 2000 by the Conference of Heads of State and Government of the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS).

The creation of GIABA is a major response and contribution by ECOWAS to the fight against money laundering.

GIABA is a specialized ECOWAS institution responsible for strengthening the capacity of member states to prevent and combat money laundering and terrorist financing in the region. In addition to member states, GIABA grants observer status to African and non-African states and intergovernmental organizations that support its objectives and actions and have requested observer status.
